

Sinclair's transparent action to influence the coming national election through their broadcast outlets is a dangerous abuse of the public airwaves, and shows a reckless disregard for the law.

This organization, if they proceed, should be denied the renewal of their broadcast licenses for their clear abuse of their privilege and violation of the campaign finance laws in the process.

Expansions of consolidation, such as that sought by Sinclair, should be rejected, and the current consolidation of the media should be rolled back.